Excellent location, friendly and helpful staff and modern, accessible facilities are all key features that set a good holiday park apart. Amongst them is the standard and quality of its washroom facilities. Your guests will be familiar with a certain level of comfort and luxury whilst holidaying 'al fresco' at your caravan park or campsite, and developing your washrooms could leave even more of a positive lasting impression.

CASE STUDIES

Aaztec's MARINE range at Partington's Holiday Parks, North West England

Partington's Holiday Parks are a family owned business based in Blackpool. Established over 70 years ago, the 4th generation of the Partington family are still providing unbeatable service and maintaining the renowned high standards of the award winning parks.

With quality at the very core of the business, they are continually reinvesting in the holiday parks and chose Aaztec to work on the refurbishment of the washrooms at the Tarn House, Newton Hall and Windy Harbour sites. The washrooms had to be functional, durable and stylish and so our MARINE SGL range of cubicles, ducts, vanity units and benching were perfect for the job.

Robert Partington Kearsley, the Director at Partington's Group commented "As part of our current refurbishment programme, we wanted to create a high quality washroom experience for our guests. The Aaztec design team worked closely with our contractors providing energy and water saving ideas, and worked hard to deliver a first class product. We're delighted with the results and customer feedback has been superb. I would definitely recommend them to anyone considering new washrooms".

Aaztec's ATLANTIC range at Monkton Wyld Holiday Park, Dorset

Associated with the Camping and Caravanning Club, Monkton Wyld Holiday Park is set within 25 acres of beautifully landscaped and carefully maintained grounds and offers idyllic Camping and Caravanning in West Dorset. Just three miles from the historic harbour town of Lyme Regis, the site is at the centre of the World Heritage Jurassic Coastline.

The Club prides itself on offering access to the best sites in the country and have set a benchmark for the quality of camping and caravanning parks everywhere, and Monkton Wyld is no exception. The new shower block features Aaztec's ATLANTIC SGL range of cubicles, ducts and vanity units in a modern and sophisticated colour scheme. Complete with full-height privacy doors and stainless-steel fittings, the cubicles are tough yet stylish, creating a sleek and memorable washroom.

Simon Kewley, owner of Monkton Wyld, commented "The shower block has been very well received by all; Bob Hill (Sites Director of Camping & Caravanning Club) visited for our official opening and was suitably impressed. We are overwhelmed by our customer's positive reviews on our TripAdvisor page and could not be happier with our new washrooms. We have also just been awarded Platinum for the 2018 Loo of the Year Awards!"

Aaztec's MARINE range at Harrogate Caravan Park, North Yorkshire

Harrogate Caravan Park, overlooking the Crimple Valley, is the perfect base for exploring Harrogate, York and Leeds plus the wonderful countryside and Dales beyond.

The site is committed to providing luxury facilities and having previously worked with Aaztec on various washroom refurbishments in different areas of the business; it was another successful collaboration.

Our MARINE SGL range of cubicles, ducts and vanity units were selected in a vibrant hot pink! Not only are they modern, stylish and memorable, but also clean, comfortable and easy to use.

Heather Parry, Managing Director of Yorkshire Event Centre Ltd commented "Aaztec have provided our washroom solutions for many years, from the Harrogate Caravan Park to Fodder – our award winning farm shop and cafe, to our brand new exhibition complex. The Aaztec products are second to none and our pink washrooms at the caravan park have become quite famous now!"

HARROGATE CARAVAN PARK

Aaztec's RECYCLOO range at Chestnut Meadow Campsite, East Sussex

Chestnut Meadow is an award winning, family run campsite near Bexhill-on-Sea that prides itself on being able to offer a relaxing escape to the countryside with that extra little bit of luxury.

The site adopts an extremely environmentally friendly approach, using recycled materials wherever possible including their roof tiles, paint and roads. It is this ethos that meant when it came to the washroom refurbishment, there was no other choice than our entirely unique Recycloo range of cubicles, ducts and vanity units.

Manufactured with board made from recycled plastic, not only does Recycloo promise a low carbon footprint, but the colourful options available give individual finishes that cannot be duplicated.

Andy Skilton, owner at Chestnut Meadow commented "Aaztec suggested that the Recycloo range would be perfect for our eco-friendly campsite and the end results did not disappoint. The washrooms are completely unique and continue to impress our guests. They look as good now as the day they were installed, 6 years ago!"

CHESTNUT MEADOW CAMPSITE

Aaztec's ATLANTIC range at St Ives Bay Holiday Park, Cornwall

St Ives Bay is a family run holiday park located just five miles north of St Ives town. Set in undulating sand dunes with private access to one of the finest sandy beaches in Cornwall, the park offers the ideal base from which to explore the fantastic Cornish coast.

The quality and maintenance of its extensive offering of facilities is a top priority for the park and as part of the development plans for 2016, a brand new toilet and shower block was built and Aaztec products installed. The ATLANTIC SGL range of cubicles, ducts and vanity units were selected, along with sleek solid surface vanity tops, perfectly suited for this beachside block where both durability and style are key.

Sue Morris, a director at St Ives Bay Holiday Park, commented *"We are absolutely thrilled with the end result of our new toilet and shower block! The Aaztec products not only look great but are extremely hardwearing and provide the perfect, clean and easy-to-use washroom environment for our valued guests.
